SENIOR PRODUCT DESIGNER

Barcelona, Spain | linkedin | lydiehero.com - WIP

PROFILE

Senior Product Designer with 9+ years of experience turning complex customer problems into simple, high-impact products. I combine customer insight, product data and strong design craft to find the right problems, align teams and ship solutions that improve customer and business outcomes. Known for customer obsession, grit and rapid AI-assisted prototyping, I bring clarity and momentum to ambiguous product challenges.

EXPERIENCE

ANKORSTORE | Senior Product Designer

May 2024 - Present

European B2B wholesale marketplace | Product Designer: Oct 2022 - Apr 2024

Owned the product design for a new discount system, from discovery and customer research through design and delivery; the feature generated €400k+ GMV and hit its quarterly target in the first month.

Drove discovery and product design for a brand-growth initiative, using research with 33 brands to refine the problem, segment users by maturity and iterate toward a Success Checklist, personalised Task Manager and Analytics experience. The release contributed to +89.7% user engagement in the post-release week.

Drive product discovery and design in a data-led squad without a PM, turning behavioural data and retailer research into product hypotheses and UX priorities. This has shaped improvements to brand discovery, categories and navigation across search, product, brand and collection pages.

Worked directly with around 100 brands and retailers over four years, through interviews, usability tests and ongoing discovery, using customer insight to shape decisions across both sides of the marketplace.

Use Claude, ChatGPT/Codex and Figma Make to explore concepts and build realistic prototypes earlier, including delivery prototypes developed with engineers.

Contribute beyond the squad by helping designers prepare and run research, and working with designers and engineers to maintain and centralise the design system.

GRIT AWARD · JUNE 2025 Recognised for persistence, adaptability and impact while navigating ambiguity and setbacks to solve the full customer problem.
